Light the Night Gala Shines Bright for Rare Disease Day

Jonesboro, AR — Nevus Outreach is proud to announce its inaugural Light the Night Gala, an elegant evening of cocktails, community, and compassion to benefit individuals and families affected by congenital melanocytic nevi (CMN) and related conditions. The event will take place on February 28, 2025 at University of Massachusetts Club, 1 Beacon St 32nd floor, Boston, MA 02108, USA, bringing together supporters and advocates to shine a spotlight on rare diseases.

Attire for the evening is cocktail formal, and guests will enjoy a night of live entertainment, a silent auction, and inspiring stories from those whose lives have been touched by CMN and other rare conditions. All proceeds will support Nevus Outreach's mission of advancing research, raising awareness, and fostering support for the global CMN community.

"As we gather for Rare Disease Day, we're reminded of the importance of shining a light on the challenges faced by those living with rare conditions like CMN," said Lauren Isbell, Executive Director of Nevus Outreach. "The Light the Night Gala is not just a celebration but a call to action to support groundbreaking research and provide hope to thousands of families worldwide."

Rare Disease Day, held annually on the last day of February, highlights the need for equity in health care, diagnosis, and treatment for those affected by rare diseases. With over 300 million people worldwide living with a rare condition, the Light the Night Gala will serve as an opportunity to bring this issue to the forefront while celebrating the resilience of the rare disease community.

Tickets for the event are available now at www.nevus.org/light-the-night. To learn more about Rare Disease Day and how you can get involved, visit www.rarediseaseday.org.

Join us for a night that promises to inspire and illuminate as we work together to build a brighter future for those affected by CMN and other rare conditions.
